Bernaix out, Wallace in Fire chief named

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — As expected, or at least predicted, for six months, Mayor Von Dee Cruse appointed Jerry Wallace to replace Charlie Bernaix as fire chief at Tuesday's City Council meeting.

Wallace, a Granite City firefighter since 1969, was previously an acting shift commander, holding the rank of captain.

Cruse gave no reason for the change at the meeting. Cruse in the past has said he was unhappy with Bernaix's performance as chief but declined to give specific reasons, saying he wanted to avoid a public debate.

Bernaix said he has not ruled out taking some sort of legal action against the city and mayor concerning his dismissal. He also said he understood the firefighters' union will file a grievance.

Art Asadorian, president of Firefighters Local 253, would not say Wednesday what, if any, specific action the union may take.

"I can only say as a union we have to protect our contract and every provision of the contract," he said. "We feel there are sections of the contract that probably apply in this case."

Asadorian called Wallace a "nice guy" who has been his long-time friend.

"Jerry Wallace is probably as qualified as any other individual in the department to be chief. Hopefully, he will make a good chief for as long as he is chief," Asadorian said. "But that's Art Asadorian talking. As far as the union, the union has to protect its contract."

After calling for a role call vote, the aldermen voted 10-2 to concur with the appointment. Fifth Ward Alderman Ginny O'Beir and 7th Ward Alderman Emerald Dawes voted against the appointment. Second Ward Alderman Virgil Kambarian and 7th Ward Alderman Jeff Worthen voted present.

The dissenting aldermen said they had no objection to Wallace or his qualifications for the job. But, they said, Bernaix's performance as chief had been good and they couldn't agree with his dismissal.

Kambarian, chairman of the Fire and Water Committee, said, "I think Charlie's done a good job and I've told him, 'Charlie, I think you've done a good job, but I'm not your boss.' and I think he understands."

Under department rules, if Bernaix remains with the department, Bernaix will return to the rank of captain. The difference in salary between captain and chief is approximately $10,000 a year ($43,000 to $33,000).

Wallace said his appointment came under "unfortunate circumstances" and he felt badly for Bernaix.

"I don't know what happened and I don't want to know what happened," Wallace said. "I want to get on with running the department."

Wallace said that as chief he wants the Fire Department to take a more pro-active, rather than reactive, posture in the community.

"I want to get involved in fire prevention and start working with the school system to start programs, primarily at the elementary level," Wallace said.

ARSON SUSPECTED: Granite City firefighters tackled a blaze at the ABC Moving Co., 2698 Washington Ave. Wednesday. Firefighters said the fire, reported at 3:30 p.m., appeared to have started when empty wooden packing crates on the east side of the lot were set on fire by an unknown person. The fire then spread to a loaded moving van trailer, causing moderate damage to the trailer and its contents. Police and fire authorities believe the fire was intentionally set. ABC Moving is owned by Tom Hoover of Chesterfield, Mo.

Depot project eyed for cut

By Sabrina Eaton
Staff writer

WASHINGTON — Defense Secretary Richard Cheney may recommend that Congress revoke funds for a $3.7 million modernization of Army barracks at the Mel Price Support Center in Granite City, the Defense Department announced on Wednesday.

The Granite City project is on a list of 20 "lower priority" military construction projects the Pentagon is thinking of cutting to save money. The list did not recommend halting construction at any projects currently under way at Scott Air Force Base in Belleville.

Deputy Defense Secretary Don Atwood will review the department's planned construction projects and submit a final list of suggested cancellations on June 1.

tions on June 1.

"Some of these actions may not be popular with members of Congress who want to cut the defense budget even as they plead to save the projects in their own states and districts," Cheney said.

"But when tight budgets force dedicated soldiers to turn in their uniforms and leave the service, I cannot put construction projects ahead of people."

Sen. Alan Dixon, D-Ill., a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, opposes cutting funds to the Granite City project. Charles Smith, Dixon's aide on defense issues, said Wednesday.

"The list is not final," Smith said. "We will have to wait and see what's on the final list the Defense Department sends over in June."

The projects will be built unless Congress approves the cuts, he said.

GRANITE CITY — Goldie's Lounge in downtown is being sold, but the new owner has not been assured he will get a liquor license.

Proprietor Ron Goforth of Madison confirmed Wednesday afternoon that he had signed all the papers to sell the tavern to Richard Rose of Granite City, who formerly operated Rick's Pub on 19th Street.

Goforth said he was waiting for the down payment, which he expected to get today. He said the sale price was $95,000.

Rose said he was going to remodel the tavern and name it Grandma's Place in honor of his grandmother, who died in January.

But Rose might not be able to get a liquor license. (See GOLDIE'S, Page 10A)

Webster demolition stirs memories

FORMER STUDENTS at Webster School watch their old school come tumbling down Wednesday afternoon.

By Andy Siering
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — No more classes, no more books, no more teacher's dirty looks ... And no more school.

The C.D. Peters Construction Co. started tearing down Webster School on Tuesday, and a steady stream of the venerable old structure's former students came by to watch the sight.

Thousands of children attended the elementary school over the years, with a maximum enrollment at one time of 450. The school was opened in 1907 and closed in the summer of 1989 after the renovation of Lake School.

"Last night it was Grand Central Station around here," 3rd Ward Alderman Paul Fisk said yesterday. He lives across the street in the 2500 block of East 25th Street.

The demolition of Webster school is the first step in the planned rehabilitation of the East Granite Neighborhood. Under an intergovernmental agreement, the city, with the county, is paying for its demolition and the landscaping to turn it into a neighborhood park. The new park will then be turned over from Granite City's school district to the city park district.

Fisk said folks were snapping photographs and taking souvenir bricks. Some, like former student Christine Fine, went further. Fine videotaped some of the demolition. She had her son, Chet, with her.

"This is killing him," Fine said. "He goes, 'Oh, no, there goes Mr. Haeffner's room.'"

But young Chet, 10, didn't seem too distraught. He now attends Lake School.

"I'm kind of glad they're tearing it down," he said. "It was kind of junky. I'm glad we're going to the new school."

The site will be turned into a neighborhood park. Said Chet, "I'm glad they're making a park out of it to make the neighborhood look nice."

Christine Fine said her sister is sending bricks to a couple of friends and relatives in other states.

Larry Lakin, 43, the janitor at Lake School, was the janitor at Webster for 30 years. He also attended the school, like generations of his family.

"I went to school here; my dad went to school here. We all lived on East 23rd," Lakin said.

He wasn't exactly sorry to see the school closed.

"It was a chore cleaning it," he said. "It was so old, and after you cleaned it it still didn't look like much."

Neither was Elmer Ivie, 69, whose primary memories of the school involved paddling for his misbehavior.

He remembered standing outside the principal's office awaiting justice, and having to duck inside if his sister walked by because "I'd get another one when I got home."

Kids have always engaged in the same behaviors that got Ivie paddled, Richard Pool, 11, when asked if he could remember his first day at Webster, said, "Yeah, I got in a fight." Who with?

"Somebody named Bobby," he said.

Meanwhile, Chris Smay, also 11, exclaimed, "I was in that room right there," he said, pointing to where a crane was knocking out a corner classroom on the second floor.

Bryan Johnson, 10, had perhaps the sagest observation. Noting that several small fires have been set in the building since the school closed, he said, "If they didn't tear it down, somebody would have burned it down."

Larry Lakin said, "Everybody wants a brick from the school."

But Elmer Ivie, perhaps recalling a particularly vigorous paddling, retorted, "Everybody but me!"

Gunshots start chase

VENICE — A 95-mph police chase ended with one man being charged with unlawful use of a weapon and another sentenced to four days in jail for fleeing to elude arrest.

A patrolman responding to a report of gunshots in the 600 block of Lincoln Avenue on April 27 saw a car backing up. When the driver, James Murphy, 23, of St. Louis jumped out of the car with a sawed-off shotgun, he was ordered to drop it. He then threw it in nearby grass and was arrested.

A passenger in the car, Tyrone Jackson, 19, also of St. Louis, then drove off at a high speed. He was pursued by Venice and Madison police units and was caught at Illinois Route 3 and West 20th Street.

Murphy was booked on warrants for unlawful use of a weapon, reckless conduct and not having a valid firearm owner's identification. He was sentenced to four days in jail April 30 under $50,000 bond.

Jackson pleaded guilty April 30 to fleeing to elude arrest and was sentenced to four days in jail, that figure being the time he spent in jail before going to court.

A third passenger in the car was not charged.

Tourism bureau expenditures disputed by state

By Ed Gurney
Staff writer

COLLINSVILLE — A state agency is questioning $135,847 in expenditures by the Southern Illinois tourism bureau in the 1988-1989 fiscal year, according to an audit and letters made public Monday.

The Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs, which administers state tourism grants, said Southwestern may have to pay back $134,617.

DCCA said, however, that "it is important to emphasize that the information being shared is preliminary at this time and does not constitute final departmental action."

The existence of discrepancies in the 1988-1989 fiscal year was first made public by the Herald-Journal in December.

DCCA said the questions being raised were a result of an independent audit by CPA Daniel Wrigley. Southwestern's board has cooperated in the investigation, DCCA said.

DCCA said Southwestern may have to repay $118,617 in grant expenditures not matched by Southwestern with cash. Under the main tourism grant program, grants must be matched by funds raised locally.

Southwestern also may have to repay sums of $10,000 and $6,182.

Evidence suggests $10,000 went to the bureau president (presumably Ron Presson, who has since left) and there is no documentation to show the payment was a justified project-related expenditure, DCCA said.

The $6,182 involves reimbursement of travel and other expenses not substantiated, DCCA said.

"See me for all your family insurance needs."

Truck route's still a mess

We elect public officials to take care of city government. We allow them the courtesy of appointing those best able to handle day-to-day municipal operation.

But in the case of Granite City's truck route, nobody has qualified as expert, and we wonder if anybody ever will.

Truckers don't follow it, because they follow their natural instincts and always look for the most convenient way to cross through town.

Police don't like it, because they can't enforce it (the common belief is you'd need a "cop on every corner" to keep trucks from scurrying away from their designated routes).

Neighborhoods complain, because trucks frequently will find themselves (purposely or inadvertently) in residential areas that can't bear the heavy loads.

Signs don't make sense, because there are two few believe it or not some give impossible-to-follow directions. (Truck drivers want to know one thing — Where the highway from here? — and they'll figure out whether they need to go north, south, east or west from there.)

Streets don't make sense. (Watch a stranger try to figure out which way 20th Street goes from start to finish.)

It's hard to determine who is to blame, so maybe we'll blame everybody. The most recent truck route woes started a few years ago when 4th Ward Alderman Dan Partney swayed the majority of the council to get trucks off Missouri Avenue. He was protecting the interests of the 4th Ward, and nobody can fault him. Eventually the various paths on the route were confined to just one ward, the 5th.

In retrospect, it appears nobody bothered thinking through the problems that could develop, even though officials are chosen to solve such matters. The mayor, the city traffic engineer, the aldermen — take your pick — they've all had some share in our truck route dilemma.

The reopening of Rock Road many months from now is expected to help things considerably. But it won't be a final solution. As long as Granite City is laid out the way it is, as long as there are politics and as long as truckers do what they want to do, some things will never change.

Prison population soaring

James Thompson in his 14 years as governor has often been criticized for emphasizing new and expanded prison space, but we have felt this was one of his strong points. Even with his efforts, the state has fallen far behind.

Legislators have mandated stiffer sentences, and drug-related crimes have increased. Those incarcerated in Illinois now total 26,049. The weekly pattern has been 400 entering and a net growth of 100 inmates.

Corrections Director Kenneth McGinnis warns that the 38 percent overcrowding is a critical problem, adding, "We cannot build our way out of this predicament. We must explore the options available and then act decisively."

Electronically monitored confinement to one's home is being tried in some areas and may offer a partial answer. This and other options, including further prison construction, undoubtedly will require study and action during the next governor's term.

Unlocking all prison doors certainly won't work. A Granite City man released from an Illinois penitentiary in the 1980s killed two innocent persons here and critically wounded a third in a short but deadly taste of freedom. For many criminals, society cannot forgive and forget.

Awkward system dying off

Quad City municipalities wisely avoided the commission form of government but Collinsville is still struggling to free itself after 60 years.

Residents this spring voted decisively to change to city-manager government next year, but the five-member Collinsville board found it necessary Monday night to switch police supervision from one commissioner to another to end a worsening conflict over the extent of the police chief's authority to run the department.

The awkward commission system is dying, but not quietly.

Debt: the all-American way

A few weeks ago my wife and I made a move that has been ridiculed, criticized, questioned and, in some circles, looked upon with utter disbelief.

We cut up our credit cards. Snip, snip. It was easy. Like falling off a log. A log on top of Mount McKinley.

It was one bold move to ease ourselves from under the crushing weight of debt. It feels like every creditor from here to Detroit.

We could not have foreseen the ramifications. From the halls of MasterCard to the shores of JC Penney, there arose a clamor from skeptics.

"You did what?" said one acquaintance. "How could you afford to do that? You crazy?"

Maybe, replied. But we couldn't afford not to. We had fallen into the crevice that has swallowed up too many consumers.

Every time we reached our credit limit, we received a polite letter from the creditor saying that it was extending our limit, because we were "such good customers."

Fortunately, we made the decision one that far more people need to make.

And we made it, knowing full well we might regret it. The first time didn't take long. It came a few days later when I visited a video store to join a rental program.

"We need your MasterCard or Visa number," the clerk said. I didn't have it. "Well, we need some kind of credit card," he insisted. I don't have any, I replied.

Dennis Grubaugh

He gave me an are-you-wierd-cold, hard cash doesn't hold up anymore in this wild world of credit, it seems. Meanwhile, I'll rent my movies elsewhere.

Since the momentous turn of events of a few weeks ago, the wife and I have been living one day at a time, paying bills as possible and resting comfortably in the knowledge that at least we can't add to the debt (save for interest).

But it hasn't been easy. The credit-mongers are all about. Tune to any station. Flip to any page. Debt is big business.

"You, too, can have credit!" exclaimed one ad. "Today, you can't be denied a credit card for any reason. Call us at 1-800-555-5555."

Today, there are even "specialty" credit cards. I saw one exclusively for Cardinal ball games. Fan that I am, I still managed to avoid the temptation.

Today, the average American couple can't simply divest itself of debt. That would be almost un-American.

But we can try.

Letters

Prevent school area deaths

To the editor:

Perhaps this letter is written more out of frustration than anything else. But it is written with the hope that perhaps the students, some parents and even the police department will be concerned enough to take some kind of action before there is a serious accident.

The frustration evolves out of having to pass through the stoplight at Nameoki Road and Jill Avenue each day when high school and junior high students dismiss for the day.

The kids (young adults) that cross there seem to be totally oblivious to the stoplight changes, what they mean, how seriously they could be injured (even killed) or perhaps they just don't care and enjoy the challenge of daring a car to screech to a halt before hitting them.

I have observed both individuals and groups of teens deliberately step in front of cars with the green light in the cars' favor, forcing the cars to stop. Then they yell or gesture obscenely should the drivers honk their horns.

I realize the area between St. Clair and Jill is very congested, especially when school lets out. There have been numerous young people hurt crossing in unauthorized areas.

But the congestion is only compounded when the youths disregard the traffic signals and when the cars which have the right of way are forced to stop.

Don't the kids understand the meaning and use of traffic signals? Don't they comprehend how easily a life can be snuffed out or limbs crushed when impacted by a 3,000-pound car?

Perhaps some extra (and required) classes on walking/traffic safety should be put together at school.

Or, better yet, station a patrolman at that crossing to watch the kids. When they choose to ignore the signal light, write them a ticket which imposes a fine and/or an appearance (with parent) in traffic court.

If parents were aware of their kids' actions and were facing a fine or having to schedule time for a court appearance, perhaps they would do more to impress on their kids how important it is to obey the traffic signals. From what I've observed, it would be an excellent source of income to the city.

I'm not a "hard-nosed" driver. I realize "teens will be teens." I know I can drive (and usually do) a different route when school is letting out.

I am a caring parent who believes kids should be taught to obey the law and respect other people's rights.

If something is not done, and soon, we will be reading about some youth that was killed or injured again and some mother and father will wonder how it could have happened when there is a stoplight at that crossing.

Candidate alters her stand

To the editor:

It must be election time again. Politicians are going around the state saying one thing in one place and something completely different somewhere else.

Lynn Martin didn't waste a minute blasting Sen. Simon for voting against the Clean Air Act. She told the Chicago Sun-Times that the version of the bill passed by the Senate would have her support.

The bill would devastate southern Illinois, destroying the coal industry, wiping out 18,000 jobs, ruining the livelihood of thousands of families and increasing utility rates throughout the state. Yet she would have voted for it, she said in April.

But last August, while stump-ing in Effingham to undo the damage done by calling southern Illinoisans "rednecks" last summer, she told the Effingham Daily News "I would not vote for a bill, just because it was for the environment, knowing it would destroy the livelihoods of Illinoisans in the south." The voters have a right to know which Lynn Martin they're getting.

Either way, we deserve better. Paul Simon has always walked straight with the people. He knows that if you want to represent all in Illinois, you can't say one thing in Effingham, another in Marion and a third in Chicago.

JACK PERKINS, Granite City

Victims are still suffering

To the editor:

Something I wanted to do for some time, something I thought would be interesting, is to walk across Eads Bridge.

On a Sunday morning I attempted just that, but only got halfway across. I joined the Victim Justice marchers on the Illinois side of the Mississippi a few minutes before 9 a.m.

I put on my name tag, gathered a balloon, started that slow walk up the ramp, and met the Missouri collectors in the middle of the bridge.

I didn't do this because I wanted to. I did this to make a point, being a victim of a stabbing.

Sure, I lived through it. I endured the pain and suffering of eight days in the hospital and two months recuperating at home as well as losing my income from not working. Fourteen years later I am still paying the bills.

The perpetrator was sentenced to a year. Six months later, he was on the streets again.

I have a number of physical scars that won't go away, one 12 inches long that hurts when the weather changes, I have medical bill collectors hurting my credit and hounding me for money I don't have.

I did nothing wrong. I was just a victim. Why am I being punished?

HENRY MULNIK, Madison

Store's policies frustrating

To the editor:

I am writing to give my sentiments about one of the local stores in the Granite City neighborhood.

On March 30, I went to the Blockbuster Video store on Nameoki Road to look over their newly-opened store and possibly rent a few movies.

I filled out their application and took it to the membership desk to acquire my membership card. On the application I had to specify a major credit card in order to get my membership free as advertised. Additionally, by signing this application I authorized Blockbuster Video to bill any liability fees to my credit card account.

As I proceeded to the checkout counter to check out two movies and a video player, I was informed by the clerk that I would have to surrender a $200 cash deposit for the player.

This fee was not posted anywhere in the store. Now, subsequent to furnishing Blockbuster my credit card number and the authorization to bill my credit card account for any liability fees, the deposit requirement was unacceptable to me. So I informed the clerk that I did not desire to rent the tapes and departed the store.

I have not seen any advertisements in the local paper by Blockbuster so I don't guess they genuinely care about the people in the local community.

The attitude I encountered tells me that Blockbuster Video exclusively cares about taking money from the people of Granite City. This is without the hometown friendliness I would expect to experience from the local stores in Granite City. This is the attitude I would expect from a store in downtown St. Louis where the local business is not what you are competing for.

I would hope that the people of Granite City still have that hometown community attitude, and that they will make their sentiments known to the rank and file of Blockbuster Video.

A snake in your house ... ?

To the editor:

If there was a rattlesnake in your house and you could hear it rattle every once in a while, would you kill the snake or take your children to the doctor to check for snake bites every month?

If there was uranium in your basement, would you have it removed or make your children wear badges to check for radiation? If your pipes at home were covered with asbestos, would you have the insulation removed or chest X-ray your children yearly?

If your house had faulty wiring, would you hire an electrician or sleep under a smoke detector?

If the health of your citizens was in danger because of lead contamination in the soil, would you favor removing the lead or would you worry about economic development and stick your head in the ground and advocate blood tests for the children?

All the aforementioned examples have one thing in common: If you choose the second alternative and find out something is wrong, it is already way too late. The damage is done and cannot be reversed.

Blood tests for the children in the lead-contaminated area of Granite City at this time may prove nothing. What happens years from now when the tests start coming out positive? Do you want this on your conscience, Mayor Cruse?

Ownership change will assure state-of-the-art steel technology here

When you leave for a few days, fireworks occur in your home town.

It always seems to happen, and last week, while I was out of the state there were two major developments:

"Agreement was reached on a shift in the ownership of Granite City Steel/National Steel (effective by June 30).

"The St. Louis Sun daily newspaper closed after its April 25 edition.

NATIONAL STEEL CORP., sixth largest steel producer in America, consists of Granite City Steel in the St. Louis area, the big Great Lakes Steel plant in the Detroit area and the somewhat smaller Midwest Steel in the Chicago area.

National Intergrupp Inc. of Pittsburgh and Nippon Kokan of Japan each has owned half of National Steel since 1984.

After one-fifth of National Steel is sold to NKK for $147 million, there will be a 70-30 proportion.

Chairman and chief executive officer of National Steel is Howard M. "Doc" Love, well known here as a former president of Granite City Steel.

National Steel's president and chief operating officer, Kokichi Hagiwara, also has spent considerable time here and at the other two plants.

*****
THE CHANGE WON'T affect management or employee policies, labor contracts or modernization plans, Hagiwara said.

"NSC already has a strong team in place," he commented. "We do not plan any major changes in NSC's overall operations."

"We look forward to many decades of increasing prosperity and stability for all those associated with National Steel Corp."

"NSC's working relationship with its employees and union representatives has been very healthy and we will work hard to see that it continues."

"NSC is recognized as a leader in labor-management relations."

Bill Winter

NKK PRESIDENT AND CEO Yoshinari Yamashiro said,

"After six years as a partner in National Steel, we feel the company has shown consistent improvement and will continue to improve in the future."

"Therefore, there will be no change in the management policies of NSC, and it will continue to be managed as an American company, as it has been in the past."

Love, chairman and CEO of both NII and NSC, said several years ago that NII wanted to pursue a long-term strategy to divest its metals businesses and concentrate more on its distribution firms, including a pharmaceutical company.

Love indicated last week he still is positive about National Steel's future and pointed out that the ownership change would ensure the continued flow of new, state-of-the-art technology to NSC from NKK, a worldwide steelmaking leader.

THE DECISION to close the Sun "was a decision the marketplace made for us. After seven months and after exhaustive consideration, it is clear that we could not achieve sufficient circulation to make this enterprise viable," Editor-in-Chief Ralph Ingersoll II said.

"And so, we have concluded that there is no longer room in St. Louis for a third newspaper in addition to our own Suburban Journals and the Post-Dispatch."

The decision to cease publishing the Sun, he said, was not based on lack of advertising support, which had increased more than 75 percent since Jan. 1.

"The Sun clearly received a vote of confidence from the advertising community," Ingersoll said.

"DESPITE EXTENSIVE promotional efforts, our inability to build or even to project a viable circulation base, particularly with respect to single-copy sales, was judged to be the insurmountable problem."

Ingersoll, who is also chairman of Ingersoll Publications Co., added, "Far from leaving the St. Louis region, we've been here for seven years already and will continue to publish the 153-year-old Alton Telegraph and the 44 editions of the Suburban Journals."

"Today the Suburban Journals are regarded as the largest and highest-quality community newspaper group in the United States."

"We intend to further strengthen our commitment to the more than 900,000 households we already serve in the greater St. Louis area by investing in new editions, plants and presses."

"WE PLAN TO CONTINUE to actively support initiatives which enhance the quality of life for all who live here."

He said the Sun achieved notable success as a public advocate for such issues as the expanded convention center and domed football stadium, the NFL Partnership, the drive to keep TWA here and the preservation of St. Louis as a major airline hub.

He noted that the Sun was locally and nationally acclaimed for its editorial innovations, including TV Week, a glossy television magazine; Peach, its full-color Friday entertainment supplement published on peach-colored newsprint; Fun in the Sun, its children's weekend magazine designed to promote literacy as well as fun; daily centerfold TV/cable listings, the first full-color daily listings of their type; and advanced electronic color design and makeup.

Wallace said he is also concerned with "increasing and expanding the educational opportunities of the guys on the job." He said the amount of information in the firefighting field has grown "ten-fold" in the past several years and it is continuing its rapid development.

"Our firefighters represent a wealth of talent and, as individuals, their education level has increased tremendously compared to past years," Wallace said. "I want to see them able to get their associate's degree and then go on."

Wallace has a bachelor's degree in speech pathology and a master's degree in public administration. He is working toward a bachelor's degree in firefighting through Western Illinois University and the National Firefighter Academy.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

When a person buys insurance, it frequently is important to determine whether the salesperson is a "broker" or an "agent." A broker is an individual who procures insurance and acts as a middleman between the insured and the insurer. A broker solicits insurance business from the public under no employment from any special company. An agent, on the other hand, is an individual who has a fixed and permanent relation to the company he represents.

The reason this distinction is important is that an agent can bind his company to a policy of insurance from the outset. A broker is not able to bind the company until the insurance underwriters act on the application. The reasoning behind this distinction is that an agent has a fixed relation to the company he serves while a broker really works on behalf of the person buying the insurance.

In one recent case, the plaintiff was contacted by an insurance salesman to purchase disability insurance. The plaintiff signed an application which provided for a monthly disability benefit of $1,000, and at that time he paid the first monthly premium.

Later the salesman told him that he had passed the physical and his application had been accepted. The plaintiff was injured 30 days later, and he contacted the salesman to obtain the necessary claim forms. At that time the plaintiff noticed that the amount of the monthly benefit on the application form had been changed from $1,000 per month to $800 per month.

The plaintiff maintained that the representations of the salesperson bound the insurance company to the $1,000 monthly benefit. The insurance company, on the other hand, argued that the insurance salesman was merely a broker, and therefore he did not have the ability to bind the company to a contract of insurance. The company noted that its underwriters failed to approve the $1,000 monthly benefit and reduced the benefit level to $800 per month.

The court found that the salesman was a broker and not an agent. The salesman's own testimony indicated that he did not have an exclusive relationship with the defendant company. In addition, the salesman testified that he considered the plaintiff his client and he always felt that he was acting on his behalf. For these reasons the salesman's representations did not bind the insurance company, and therefore the court found that the injured party was only entitled to the $800 monthly benefit.

Warriors threaten Alton at Tiger Relays

By Mike Kelly
Staff writer

COLLINSVILLE — The Alton Redbirds needed victories in the final two events to stave off the Warrior-track team and capture their third consecutive championship at the Seventh Annual Edwardsville Tiger Relays.

With Granite City leading 108-98 through 13 events, Alton's Richy Madison captured the triple jump (42-6) and the Redbirds won the 1600 relay (3:30.3) to nose out the Warriors 120-108.

The Warriors, who put together a strong showing thanks to their field events, were shut out in the last two legs of the meet.

"Granite City really pushed us today," said Alton coach Bill Diddlebock. "Their kids turned in some superb efforts and they made us work for this victory. It's always nice to win, but Granite City provided us with some great competition."

The Warriors piled up 64 points in the field events. Sophomore Larry Curry won the discus (141-0), junior Dan Brazee, despite the affects of a cold, won the high jump (6-6), and senior Frank Vivod captured the shot put with a record toss of 54-7. That effort eclipsed the old record of 52-6 1/2 set by Hazelwood Central in 1984. Senior Joe Thomas complemented Vivod and Curry with second-place finishes in the shot put (49-8 1/2) and the discus (138-5).

"Frank has really matured," Granite City coach Dave McClain said of Vivod. "He's grown into the position and Granite simply enjoys what he's doing. Frank's put a lot of work into the shot put and those efforts are beginning to pay off. You could see him falling into a nice groove two weeks ago. He's got a nice form right now and if it continues, he could qualify for the state tournament.

"But all of our field people are executing very well right now and that's what you want at this stage of the season. Our field people have done the job of scoring a lot of points for us in the meets and that's allowed our

Warriors 10th at Marion; Trojanettes gearing up

By Brian Henry
Correspondent

MARION — The Warrior track team was 10th at the Marion Relays last Friday with 34 points.

Granite City placed fifth or higher in six different events in the 16-team field.

"The competition was a little stronger, and our coach reflects that," said Warrior coach Dave McClain.

The event was different in that all scoring was based on a relay format for all events. The shot put relay team of Frank Vivod, Joe Thomas, Larry Curry and Mark Cotter placed highest for Granite City with a second place. Taking third in the high jump were Dan Brazee, Brian Cholevik and Eric Miner.

The Warriors also had four fifth-place finishes. The discus team of Vivod, Thomas, Curry and Ron Selph; the four-mile relay of Lance Reynolds, Brian Seiz, Justin Stallings and Larry Strader; and the low hurdle and high hurdle shuttle team of Brazee, Cholevik, Allen Williams, Kyle Cooper and David Davis.

The Madison girls team, the top-ranked small school in the metro east, is in the final stages of preparation for sectional competition at Red Bud on May 11.

The Trojanettes took third at the Red Bud Relay with 44 points on Friday, running on the same track and against many of the same teams that will be in the sectional. Madison followed with 65 points and second place in a quad meet Monday in Bethalto. Jerseyville won that meet with 102 points. The Trojanettes competed against all Class AA teams in that meet. Madison has one more meet — the Roxana Relays on Monday — before the sectional.

At Red Bud, the Trojanettes won the 400 relay (51.4), the freshman 800 relay (1:58.8), the 100 meter dash (Yukeitha Gardner) in 13.0 and the shot put (Jones at 31-8). The Trojanettes won the meet with 66 points and Sparta was second with 49.

At Bethalto, Madison won the 800 medley (1:39), the 400 relay (53.4), the 800 relay (1:55.1), the 100 meter dash (Shermaine Russell) in 13.9 and the shot put (Jones at 31-8). The Trojanettes also got seconds from the 1600 relay (5:15), the 400 meter dash (Misty Garrett) in 67.8 and the discus (Theresa Hamp) at 88-3.

"We don't mind going against Class AA teams at this point of the season," said Trojanette coach Gene Briggs. "We're planning on sending as many girls as we can to state (May 18-19) and this is the way to get ready. We've already met, the qualifying marks in seven events."

Those events are the 800 medley, the 800 relay, the 400 relay, the 100 meter dash, the 200 meter dash, the 400 meter dash and the shot put.

Lenzi, Lady Warriors win 3-1

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

HAZELWOOD, Mo. — Addie Lenzi is like Brett Hull. No matter what kind of game it is, Lenzi will get her scoring chances. And more often than not, she'll convert those chances into goals.

Lenzi scored two goals and was a constant threat to get several more as the Lady Warriors (7-3) won their fourth straight game Wednesday, a 3-1 decision over Hazelwood West. Her beautiful direct free kick from the far left wing beat West goalie Kim Forsythe to the near side with 17 minutes left to clinch the game.

"Addie has a very good understanding of the game," said coach Gene Baker. "That's something we're working on with a lot of the others. And her first goal was just a beautiful shot against a very good goalie."

The Lady Warriors came out storming and could have scored several goals in the first 15 minutes. Lenzi and Amanda Witter in particular stormed the goal, although Beth Epperson and Hollie Taylor each hit the crossbar. But it was freshman Ann Logan who scored the first goal, taking a pass from fellow freshman Tammy Dutko and beating a defender down the left wing at 16:00 for her first varsity goal.

"Ann is another outstanding freshman," said Baker. "She has the speed and she didn't worry about the keeper coming out to beat her to that ball. Then we moved her back to the backfield and she played very well there, too."

Lenzi was next, although Logan and Dutko started the play with a nice give and go down the left wing. Logan sent it across and Witter directed it to Lenzi, whose left-footer beat Forsythe in the top-right corner at 19:00.

West turned the play around for several minutes and Lori Corbett beat keeper Beth Krapoff on an assist from West Ellis at 24:00 to cut the margin to 2-1.

"I've noticed that every game we have a period where we get lackadaisical," said Baker.

"And I thought there were some funny calls that turned it around for a while. I don't blame Beth for it. She's an outstanding goal-keeper for a freshman. But I would like to have Leslie Stavelly (knee) ready against the real good teams."

Hazelwood West was very physical and things got a bit chippy after Lenzi's direct kick made it 3-1. Michelle Smith picked up a red card two minutes after the goal, leaving West a player short for the balance of the game. Then Corbett picked up a yellow card after a hard foul on Angela Bissan.

"West is always physical, the girls and the boys," said Baker. "They saw early that they couldn't stay with our offense, so they turned to some other things."

Julie Dempsey and Jennifer Harper went down as the play got rough, but both left the field under their own power. The Lady Warriors outshot West 15-7 and had eight corner kicks to one. West committed 19 fouls to only six for Granite City.

The two-run single gave winning pitcher Rich Schardan (3-1) all the cushion he needed as the Warriors won 5-2. Granite City stayed right in the thick of a wide-open Southwestern Conference race at 3-1, just a game behind co-leaders Belleville East and East St. Louis and tied with Belleville West. Alton fell to 2-4 in the conference and 6-10 overall. Collinsville is also 2-4 in league play.

On Wednesday, Brian Harshany hit his fifth home run of the season and drove in three runs in an 8-2 win at Hillsboro, raising the Warriors' record to 11-4. Tom Senecyn got the win, pitching six innings and striking out nine as Hillsboro fell to 5-14.

"I seriously considered pitching for Tony in the sixth inning," said Warrior coach Bob Stegemeyer. "He had looked so bad at the plate in recent days. Like a lot of our other hitters, he was looking at too many good pitches and putting himself in a hole. But he came through."

Stegemeyer again wasn't too pleased with an offense that struck out 10 times and managed only five hits off Redbird right-hander Gary Hubbard. But Schardan scattered six hits and walked only one to go with seven strikeouts of his own. He was also backed by one of the War-

Lenzi had two goals in that game and two more Wednesday as the Lady Warriors (7-3) stretched their winning streak to four games. Despite a two-game winning streak, John Hutchings would like a little more breathing room. The Lady Warrior softball team beat Alton 5-0 on Tuesday and topped Roxana 5-4 on Wednesday to raise their record to 4-7 (3-2 in the Southwestern Conference).

"I've been on pins and needles," said Hutchings. "The girls are making me old real quick."

Min. Puhse pitched a complete game at Alton and then was pressed into relief duty Wednesday. Amy Bohnstiehl had control problems and lasted only 1 1/2 innings at Roxana. Kim Pawlak got the win with 3 1/2 innings of relief as Granite City came back from a 3-0 deficit.

Bohnstiehl allowed three runs in the first before Pawlak came in with the bases loaded and two outs in the second. She got a strikeout to end that inning. Michelle Bequette singled home Pawlak in the third to make it 3-1, then Jennifer Cavanaugh and Tiffany Winters pitched up RBIs in the fifth to tie the game.

Trailing 4-3 in the sixth, the Lady Warriors got two runs with two outs on a single by Pawlak, a bunt single by Lori Dillier, an RBI single by Michelle Bequette and a wild pitch. Puhse relieved Pawlak in the sixth and got the save.

"We were up and down during the game, but fortunately we were good enough to win," said Hutchings. "We would have won a lot easier if we could have produced when we had the chances."

Tri-City season has delayed start; Phillips takes $3,000

By Joe Senter
Correspondent

GRANITE CITY — After being rained out the first weekend, the Tri-City Speedway season got off to a perfect start Saturday.

Terry Phillips of Springfield, Mo., won the U.M.P. late model stock car main event and took home the $3,000 first prize. Kevin Gundaker looked like sure winner as he led until the final two laps when the belt on his fuel pump broke, knocking him out for the night.

Gundaker started the main event from the rear of the lineup and took over the lead in the 18th lap of the 40-lap race. Phillips coasted home following Gundaker's problems. He was followed by Steve Francis, Terry Messinger, Bert Cheatham, Bill Faust and Paul Schaefer. Billy Moyler and Cheatham won the heat races. There were 23 cars on hand for the 4-crown event.

Dan Ford was the main event winner in the Mighty Midgits as Billy Molkenhur took a violent flip in his car and had to be taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center. He had minor injuries and was kept overnight. Molkenhur's car flipped several times before coming to a stop. Pat Lysell also banged up his car but escaped injury.

Roy Caruthers led the main event until the final three laps before finishing second to Ford. Steve Knepper started dead last in the 26-team field and finished third, followed by Terry Wente, Scott Weyant and Donnie Beecher. Jerry Russell, Wente and Gene Beach took the heat races. There were 32 Midgits on hand.

Brian Wolfmeier won the sportsman's car feature followed by Jake Seets, Rick Bayer and John Seets. Gary Archambault and John Seets took the heat races. Rick Rhoades made a clean sweep in the street stocks by taking the feature event and his heat race with Don McElroy Jr. taking the other heat. Tom Ratajczyk followed Rhoades in the main event with McElroy third.

Sprint Midget nationals at Tri-City this weekend

Defending USAC National Sprint and Midget champions Rich Vogler and Russ Gamber will lead the 100-mile tri-city headline more than 60 preliminary entries for the Texaco/Skoi Racing Sprint-Midget Nationals on May 4-5 at Tri-City Speedway.

The two-day extravaganza on the track's 1/4- and 1/2-mile dirt ovals will feature both the Loctite/Crestliner Vans USAC Thunder & Lightning Sprint Cars and the USAC National Midgets. Preliminary entries have been received from drivers representing seven states, including Illinois and Missouri.

Vogler will compete in both divisions, with STP qualifications, Midget heat races and a special 20-lap Sprint qualifier on Friday and twin 40-lap events capping the program on Saturday.

Track

Track people to catch up in the process. Today's effort was definitely our best showing as a team this season."

The Warriors put together some impressive showings in the relays by placing second in the 3200 (8:31.2), third in the 400 (45.5) and the sprint medley (3:35.0), fourth in the 800 (1:37.0), second in the distance medley (11:17.4) and second in the 300 low hurdles (47.4). Individually, Justin Stallings (10:36.6) and Brian Seiz (10:36.2) finished second and third, respectively, in the 3200 run, while Brazee took fourth (15.8) in the 100 high hurdles.

But the Redbirds have a little too strong in the relays as they won six and finished second in the sprint medley.

"We've got the talent to be a very good team," said Diddleback. "But we're not as deep as we were last season. That's why

The Midgets, led by Gamber and Vogler, will race the 1/4-mile oval and the winged Sprint cars will tackle the 1/2-mile track. Vogler's Sprint competition will come from three-time USAC champion Steve Butler, 1989 Rookie of the Year Eric Gordon, second-generation stars Rick Howerton (son of Jackie) and Joey Saldaña (son of "Little Joe"), plus Missouri veterans Randy Combs, Scott Allen, Dick Carroll and Mike Thurman, and Illinois drivers Dave Eesse, Tony Weyant, Manny Rockhold and K.V. Weiland.

Challenging Gamber and Vogler in the Midgets are two-time USAC champ Kevin Olson, Indy 500 veteran Stan Fox, Hoosier Dome Invitational winner Mike Streicher, Terry and Stan Wente, Steve Gennet, Gene Beach, Scott Frew, Shannon Finley, Reg Combs, Pat Lysell, Larry Dudley, Bruce Donaldson Jr., Billy Mollenbur and Dan Ford plus Illinois' own Roger Branson, Scott Weyant, Steve Knepper, Jerry Russell, Don Lehmann, John Meyers, Bobby Schneider, Jim Farney, Tommy Baughman, Dawn Stowers, Tim Siner, Johnnie Crawford and Jay McKinnin.

Gates open each night at 5:30 with racing at 7:30. Friday tickets are $10, with children under 12 admitted free. Adult tickets on Saturday are $12.50, with children 6-12 priced at $5. Tickets may be charged by calling 314-652-5000.

we needed a stronger effort from our field events. I don't know if it's our work ethic or what. But we must improve in that area."

"Granite City made us earn this championship. They pushed us to the limit. Fortunately, Madison pulled us through with his victory in the triple jump. Dave has done a splendid job with his kids at Granite City and they're a legitimate threat in any meet."

"It was a promising day for our kids," said McClain. "Our distance kids turned in their best performances of the year, and it couldn't have come at a better time. We want to qualify as many kids as possible for the state meet and the important thing is to get our kids ready for the sectionals (May 18 at Belleville)."

The Warriors will compete in the Collinsville Invitational on Friday, then the Southwestern Conference meet next Thursday. The girls conference meet is today in Collinsville.

riors' best defensive efforts of the year. They didn't commit an error.

"Richie did a good job, although he threw the one hanging curve to (Tom) Brinkman (a two-run homer in the fourth)," said Stegemeier. "But he pitched him well the other times and we made the plays. Jeff Stephens has been outstanding at short-stop."

Mike Mueller also made two good plays at third base and hit his first home of the year, an inside-the-park job in the second that made it 3-0. Center fielder Jeff Mossman misjudged the fly ball, then was slow retrieving it as Mueller circled the bases.

Wallace got the scoring started with a two-run homer in the first after Brian Harshany drew his first of three walks. It was Wallace's fourth of the season and 13th of his career, a new Granite City High School career record. Steve Tritschuh hit 12 in 1981-83. Wallace and Harshany both have four homers this year and are aiming at Tritschuh's single-season record of six.

"They took the bat out of Joe's hands after that and that's why we needed Tony to come through in the cleanup spot," said Stegemeier. "I took a chance sending Joe home on the hit, but they held the ball a little too long."

After Brinkman's home run made it 3-2 in the fourth, the Redbirds had a good chance to tie or go ahead in the fifth. Two infield singles and a walk loaded the bases with two outs, but K.C. Doucette hit a blistering line drive right at second baseman Jim McKeehan. Schardan then retired the side in order in the sixth and seventh, with Stephens making a good play on Tony Gonzalez' grounder into the hole in the sixth and first baseman

Dan Partney came off the bag to take Stephens' throw and tag Nick Meggos in the seventh.

"We got lucky with the line drive (by Doucette)," said Stegemeier. "I just want us to be better hitters. I think we might be too home run-conscious. We have to go up there and make contact. But the conference race is still wide open."

The Warriors could gain a share of the league lead today when they travel to Belleville East for a 4:30 p.m. game. Granite City is off for the week end, although the sophomore team is hosting the eight-team sophomore tournament Friday and Saturday.

Partney company wins contract

Partney Construction Co. Inc., a subsidiary of Granite Sheet Metal, has been awarded a $1.3 million construction contract at the Monsanto plant in Sauget.

Work began on the project last month and will be completed by mid-summer, said Dan Partney, company vice president. The project involves construction of two buildings to house control and maintenance functions at Monsanto's W.G. Krummrich Plant in Sauget, with a combined floor area of 13,000 square feet.

Partney Construction outbid Alberici Construction Co. Inc., of St. Louis and two other firms to obtain the Monsanto contract.

A design and engineering firm that specializes in projects for the industrial marketplace, the company was awarded more than $3 million in contracts in the past year, Partney said.

The company designed, built and outfitted expansion of the MAC truck plant in Highland, Partney said.

1,400 square feet. An exterior wall wing design will rise to a height of 30 feet.

Securities office opens on Fehling

Dennis Nobbe has opened an independent securities office at 3361 Fehling Road, 9 Central Square.

Through affiliation with Linco/Private Ledger, the new Granite City office is linked to the floors of all the investment exchanges through a state-of-the-art electronic communications network, which includes over 1,100 registered representatives and 100 staff experts.

With these resources available, Nobbe said, the office is "fully equipped to fill the needs of every investor, from large institutions doing their own planning to individuals who prefer to rely on expert guidance."

Clients of Linco/Private Ledger offices invest well over $1 billion in a year, choosing from a considerable variety of offerings, including: government securities, certificates of deposit, stocks, bonds, options, insurance, mutual funds and managed asset plans.

"Unlike other major broker/dealers, Linco/Private Ledger does not offer its own investment products to clients," Nobbe said. "That means that independent Linco/Private Ledger Managers, like myself, are under no pressure to sell house brands — a condition that occurs often in branch offices of major Wall Street firms."

"We are free to independently study alternatives, perform analyses, and make evaluations to assist clients in making informed choices that are precisely tailored to fit their expectations and needs."

Linco/Private Ledger performs all the supervisory functions of a licensed securities broker/dealer as required by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Remodeling can pay off

Remodeling is an investment in the enjoyment homeowners and their families receive from their homes. And according to a recent Better Homes and Gardens study, remodeling projects can also offer a financial return on the investment when the home is sold — if the right projects are chosen.

"Many owners look at their homes and see remodeling projects they'd like to undertake to make their homes more livable," said George Crews of Crews Realty/Better Homes and Gardens.

"They also want to know if the project will add value to the home. The study found that the money put into improvements rarely provides a dollar-for-dollar return when the home is sold, but some projects tend to provide a greater return than others."

Crews said projects offering the greatest return to the owner when the home is sold are those involving the kitchen or bath.

"The study found that a new bath can return more than 75 percent of its cost when the home is sold," he said. "And kitchen remodeling can return from 60 to 80 percent."

The return from exterior projects varies to a wide degree, the study found. Exterior painting can return 40 to 50 percent of the cost, while re-siding a home may return only 15 to 35 percent of the investment.

Bike-a-thon to aid St. Jude's Hospital

Barbara Hutson, area coordinator for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital "Wheels for Life" bike-a-thon, is asking Granite City and Metro East residents to join the hospital's bike-a-thon on Saturday, May 12, at the Granite City campus of Belleville Area College. The course is 1 mile or 1.5 miles.

Hospital spokesmen said this ride honors Ellen Marie, a solid tumor patient at St. Jude's. With every turn of the wheel, riders become "spokesmen" for all the kids with cancer, like Ellen Marie, they said.

The ride is a vital part of the fight against childhood cancer at St. Jude and volunteer riders are really needed. They make or break a bike-a-thon, the spokesmen said.

Riders sign-up sponsors who pledge to make a donation based on each mile completed. All riders turning in money will receive a certificate.

Sponsor forms are available at 2705 Angela Drive, Granite City. Sign-up is from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m. May 12 at BAC and the ride is from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

The general idea is to have a good time while helping a wonderful group of children who are counting on our support, Hutson said. There will also be prizes, she said.

For more information, or to make a donation, contact Hutson at 931-6242.

SATURDAY, MAY 5, WOODLAND PARK INTERNATIONAL HORSERADISH FESTIVAL

FESTIVAL ATTENDANCE EXPECTED TO DOUBLE

This spring, the heavily wooded and rolling hills of Woodland Park in Collinsville, Illinois will take on the colors and aromas of an original and unique event. One of America's little known herbs will again be celebrated with a festival of its own.

Coordinators of the annual International Horseradish Festival held in Collinsville say last year's snowflakes on the first Saturday in May might have been the only thing that kept the crowd from exceeding 3,000. They expect attendance at the 1990 Festival to double that number.

"It was in the thirties, the wind was bitter, and there was snow," said Festival co-chairman Pat O'Neill.

"Our souvenir sweat-shirts sold out instantly. People bought them not just as souvenirs, but as a way to keep warm!"

Co-chairman George Astling echoed O'Neill.

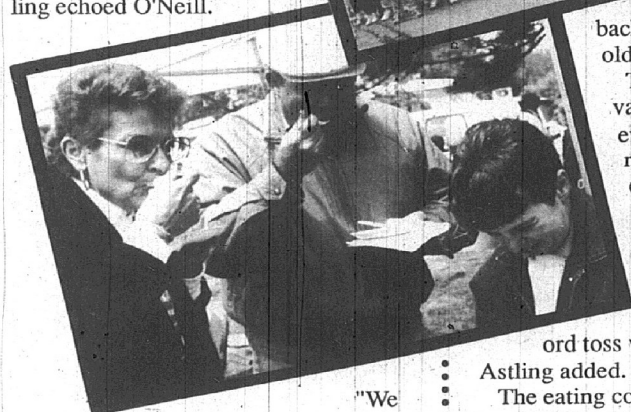

those who came for the 5K run." O'Neill added, "If the weather is warm like it should be on May 5, I think the 1990 crowd will easily surpass last years'."

Organizers hope the Festival will gain national recognition like the Garlic Festival in California, and the Vidalia Onion Festival in Georgia. "It's on the right track," said O'Neill. "It's the kind of festival people can participate in... a most in 30 seconds wins. "Last year's winner ate one and three-quarter hot dogs," Astling said.

Another popular event is the horseradish recipe contest. Last year's first place ribbon went to a chuck roast recipe that used horseradish and red wine.

The third annual Festival to be held this weekend has been in the planning stages for months. "Our traditional horseradish events will be back," says O'Neill, "along with wagon rides, the kiddie tractor pull, a petting zoo, craft

"We sold over 1000 jars of freshly ground horseradish. There was no lack of enthusiasm, even among throw-back to the old county fairs."

The Horseradish Festival features such unique events as a horseradish root toss, a horseradish eating contest, recipe contest, and horseradish root golf. "Some of the roots we toss are as big as baby elephant feet. Last year's record toss was 105 feet, 7 inches"

Astling added.

The eating contest is for the adventurous. Mounds of freshly ground horseradish are heaped onto hot dog sandwiches. The person who eats the booths and a variety of live entertainment."

New for 1990 will be an Invitational Horseshoe Pitching Tournament, the Little Miss Horseradish Contest, Pony Rides, and a Bloody Mary Recipe Contest. Additionally, kids will love to be photographed with one of the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles.

Astling, who admits he has even used horseradish on carrot cake said, "Our goal is to keep the horseradish theme intact. Every food and activity booth is required to relate somehow to horseradish."

"The committee has worked long and hard to make this year's festival one to be remembered. A lot of credit should go to the City of Collinsville, and area businesses whose financial support make this event possible," said Reker.

WRYT, which serves Madison and St. Clair counties with local news and sports, was the originator of the festival that began in 1988 as a hot dog and Pepsi giveaway on a downtown Collinsville city parking lot.

"Back then, it was a way of introducing our radio station to Collinsville," said Reker, "but it's obviously become bigger than WRYT or the City ever imagined. The City, the Chamber of Commerce and the Vegetable Growers are to be congratulated for turning a simple promotion into a major event of which the area can be proud."

Crafts Add Country Touch to Festival

This year's festival will feature some of the area's finest craftspeople, with something of interest for just about everyone.

A variety of specialties will be represented: woodworking, quilting, weaving, painting, pottery, jewelry... even children's furniture and baby blankets. Crafters will demonstrate the skills in addition to exhibiting the work.

Come see the handiwork of these fine craftspeople as you enjoy a day at the festival. You probably won't go home empty-handed.

STORYTELLING TRADITION BEGINS: WELCOME RIVERWIND

The art of storytelling has been passed down from generation to generation. The tradition is being kept alive today by a group of Metro-East artists, The Riverwind Storytellers, who will be appearing at the Horseradish Festival beginning this year.

According to their president, Marilyn Kinsella, storytelling was a way for our ancestors to pass on their culture, their moral values and their life lessons. Storytelling was also a form of entertainment.

The Riverwind Storytellers have performed at the Illinois State Fair, The Chataqua at Elsie's Landing, and the Witches Brew in Edwardsville to name a few.

Among the stories to be enjoyed this year will be "The Farmer and the Devil," and "The Horseradish."

Horseradish Trivia

DID YOU KNOW THAT...

- Horseradish has only 2 calories a teaspoon, is low in sodium, and provides dietary fiber.
- Sales of bottled Horseradish began in 1860, making it one of the 1st convenience foods.
- The most widely recognized horseradish fan in all the world may be Dagwood Bumstead, who consumes it regularly in the popular comic strip, "Blondie."

HORSERADISH IS NOW!

WRYT RADIO TO BROADCAST LIVE

WRYT, 1080AM, will again broadcast direct from the Horseradish Festival this year. "It's become an annual event for us," said Program Director Bill Reker. "Describing the Root Toss on the radio might not sound exciting, but we've had interesting reactions from our listeners who would follow the events while driving to the Festival. Reker, MC for the Third Annual International Horseradish Festival, said he is impressed with this year's improved stage and sound system, as well as the entertainment and activities.

PLAY ROOT GOLF!

Frustrated with your golf swing? Get to the root of your problem. Straighten your slice and put a halt to your hook. Win $100 in Root Golf.

Players test their skills by hitting a golf ball size head of horseradish into the toughest of holes - a horseradish jar. Collinsville golf enthusiast Fred Clare feels that even the Golden Bear would have trouble with this shot. "There's no compression in the heads. It's definitely different."

Sink a Hole-in-one and the Vegetable Growers Association will sink $100 into your pocket. Prizes will also be awarded hourly for closest-to-the-hole and a grand champion plaque will be awarded for the best shot of the day.

Condiments of the Chef

Years ago, horseradish was generally served with roast beef, and mixed with catsup for a seafood sauce; it was known to be delicious in deli sandwiches; Irishmen praised its partnership with corned beef and cabbage on St. Patrick's Day. Today, those with vision see unlimited possibilities.

Perhaps the most telling feature of horseradish's new found popularity is the creative way it's being used. It has become the "hot" way to add gusto to all kinds of cooking.

Cooks now recognize that horseradish is "user friendly." It can be surprisingly subtle or it can pack a power punch. It can be a delicate hint of flavor or a dose of culinary dynamite. You can add it with a discreet hand or an iron fist to suit your taste. Cooking mellows it and makes it more of an essence than an explosion. Best of all, horseradish is always there to transfer the ordinary into the outstanding. Try it and see for yourself.
